

Competency/Certification Exams

CTTAM is launching a new certification model which incorporates certification exams to evaluate competency at the Technologist level for Certified Technicians (C.Tech.) to progress to a Certified Technologist (C.E.T.). All non-accredited* graduates of technology programs or international engineering graduates will be required to write the certification exam.

Nonaccredited are not TAC or CTAB accredited programs in Canada or are not recognized internationally by the International Engineering Alliance (IEA) (Washington, Sydney and Dublin Accords).*

Passing the exam alone does not ensure promotion to C.E.T. and must be accompanied by a competency work report validated by a C.E.T. or P.Eng. that you are working at the Technologist level.

The cost of the exam is $252 including G.S.T.

Please contact the CTTAM office for more information at 204-784-1082.
